Limited Stain Resistance Warranty for Residential Use

Belgotex NZ warrants that the surface pile of carpet will resist most household stains for a period as indicated on Belgotex NZ's website and technical specifications, and/or care and maintenance guidelines. The warranty period starts from the date of installation and when properly installed indoors to and New Zealand standards (AS/NZS:2455) and in accordance with the terms outlined in the 'General Warranty Conditions'. This warranty specifically excludes general soiling, discoloration, appearance change due to pile distortion, exposure to substances or contaminants which degrade or destroy wool yarn or the colour of the carpet, very hot liquids, food and beverages containing strong dyes (for example, but without limitation, mustard, curry, coffee, and tea), hair dye, urine, faeces and vomit (human and animal), and staining that becomes permanent due to the failure to carry out care and stain removal procedures as recommended. Before making a claim under this warranty, you must have attempted to remove the stain by using the recommended cleaning procedures. If the stain removal is not successful, you must have the affected area of your carpet professionally steam-cleaned (hot water extraction). If the affected area remains unsatisfactory, you must notify your place of purchase immediately. You must be able to provide proof of purchase and proof that professional steam cleaning (hot water extraction) has been undertaken. You must permit Belgotex NZ access to the installed carpet to remove the stain. If, under testing and analysis performed by Belgotex NZ, the tested carpet or the cleaned area is found to have a rating of 4 or less under the Red 40 Stain Scale when tested according to the American Association of Textile Chemists and Colourists (AATCC) Test Method 175, Belgotex NZ will compensate the purchaser as per the terms outlined in the 'Claims' section. If the stain is removed as warranted, all stain removal costs will be the responsibility of the purchaser.

The Characteristics of Wool Carpets

Wool carpets are a textile that exhibit certain characteristics that consumers need to be aware of before purchase. These characteristics are part of the features of the manufacturing using natural yarns and are not manufacturing defects.

Tracking

As the name implies, 'tracking' is the imprint left behind by footsteps or other activities in contact with the carpet. Tracking is more common or evident on plush cut piles and generally disappears after vacuuming but will reappear when the carpet is next walked on. Carpet is more prone to tracking in heavy traffic areas.

Permanent Pile reversal

Cut pile carpets, especially softer plush piles may develop lighter or darker patches over time. This is known as shading, puddling, or watermarking. The effect is caused by the permanent bending of the carpet fibres which then reflect light differently than surrounding areas. Brushing or shampooing doesn't reduce shading. Shading does not affect the wear or durability of the carpet and is not recognized by Belgotex as a manufacturing defect.

Natural and Unique

The colour and texture from each production run can vary slightly between the individual batches and the sampling.

Patterned Carpets

Patterned carpets are manufactured to precise tolerances, but even with precision manufacturing and specialist installation pattern irregularities, particularly across joins may be visible.

Fluffing

With new wool carpets balls of fluff may appear on the surface. These are loose strands of natural fibre left in the pile during the manufacturing process and are a minuscule proportion of the fibre in the total pile. This fluff will most likely fill the back of your vacuum cleaner for the first few vacuums and will diminish over time.

It is safe to vacuum immediately after installation, the fluff is more difficult to see on loop pile and may appear as frizzing. Use a smooth brushless vacuum head with strong suction which will usually remove these balls of fluff.

Sprouting

Sprouting is when a single tuft rises from the surface pile, any such tufts in a cut pile carpet may be safely trimmed using scissors without affecting the appearance of the carpet. Do not pull the tuft out as it could leave a hole in the pile.

Missing tufts

Occasionally carpet tufts can be missed during the manufacturing process. In this process, please consult your retailer for professional repair.

Wool Carpet Residential Warranty

Fading

Your carpet may fade or change colour over time particularly in areas regularly exposed to sunlight. This often goes unnoticed as the change can occur over a long timeframe. North and West facing floor to ceiling windows and doors affect the carpet the most. Belgotex recommend ensuring these windows are UV protected to prevent photo-degradation. Curtains, blinds, filters, and louvres provide the best protection.
